

Corti Fratelli S.r.l. di Robbiano di Giussano are able to turn a rough sketch into a perfect furniture component.

The culture of beauty

Over the last forty years, Corti Fratelli S.r.l. located at Robbiano di Giussano, the Gotha of Italian and international industrial design has swept through, together with the leading producers of furniture articles.

This is a strong statement, but like never before it is pertinent and qualifies the extremely high professionalism of this company-laboratory, which is able to turn a drawing or a rough sketch into a unique and perfect chair, table or chaise longue.

Evolved handcrafts

The culture of beauty and the care for perfection are typical traits of evolved handcrafts. Corti Fratelli S.r.l. know how to achieve this, starting from a selection of tube bundles that are cut, brushed and washed without even a slight mark; to then continue with bending in the shape and with the most daring and complex radii;

to then go on to welding, which is invisible; and then to complete the entire process, the most difficult of finishes, chrome-plating, which brings out even the slightest of defect.

All these processes are handled to perfection and derive from the knowledge of materials and machines and the ability to imagine a complete design, pinpointing any problem or defect beforehand.

To give shape to beauty

"We look for complicated products, those that others cannot make" say Silvano and Fiorenzo Corti, managers of production and manufacturing, respectively: in other words, we look for applications that require "impossible" solutions, but that give shape to beauty".

Their experience originates from a distant past.

The activity was set up in 1954 by three founding brothers, who initially produced motorbike and automobile chassises. In 1964/1965, a renowned producer of furnishing articles in the area noticed that the tubular structures produced looked very much like those of the chair and chaise longue; and from here onwards, production changed. Today, the second generation of the Corti brothers runs the company. Together with Silvano and Fiorenzo are also Orazio in sales, Paolo in charge of the warehouse and shipments and Claudio in administration.

The highest Made in Italy level

All the machinery used for cutting and forming tubes has been supplied by the BLM Group: from the cutting line complete with end forming, washing and drying, up to the numerous tube benders to cover every possible bending requirement with extremely close or variable radii on steel, stainless steel and aluminium tubes.

Batches are typically quite small, from 500 to 3,000 pieces, unless we are talking about prototype sampling, in which case the quantity is in units. The quality is controlled at each process step to eliminate defects as soon as they appear.

The company's co-operation with the BLM GROUP has practically always existed. When walking into the workshop, it seems as if it is a display of all the machines that have been produced over the years, including the most recent ones. This is also a way of feeling an indirect involvement in the manufacture of the end product that is the highest Made in Italy level.
